The Hand That Rocks the World.

Blessings on the hand of Woman!

O, no matter where the place!

Rainbows ever gently curled;

For the band that rocks the cradle

Infancy's the tender fountain ,

Grow on for the good or evil,

Power may with Beauty flow :

Would that never storms assailed if;

Is the hand that rocks the world.

Mothers first to guide the streamlets;

From them souls unresting grow,

For the hand that rocks the cradle

Woman, how divine your mission

Always to the breath of God!

Keep, O keep the young heart open

Are from Mother Love impearled;

For the hand that rocks the cradle

Blessings on the hand of Woman !

And the sacred song is mingled

With the worship in the sky,

Mingles where no tempest darkens

Rainbows evermore are hurled;

Is the hand that rocks the world.

BY EDWARD EVERETT.

As a work of art, I know few things more pleasing to the eye, of more capable of affording scope and gratification to a taste for the beantiful than a well situated, well cultivated farm. The man of refinement will hang with never-wearied gaze on a landscape by Claude or Salvator; the price of a section of the most fertile land in the West would not ourchase a few square feet of the canvass on which these great artists have depicted a rural scene. But nature has forms and proportions beyond the painter's skill; her divine pencil touches the landscape with living lights and shadows, never mingled on his pallet. What is there on earth which can more entirely charm the eye, or gratify the taste, than a noble farm? It stands upon the southern slope, gradually rising with variegated a scent from the plain, sheltered from the north-western winds by woody heights, broken here and there with moss-covered strength to the outline. The native forest has been cleared from the greater part of the farm, ed. remains in wood for economical purposes, and to give a picturesque effect to the landscape. The eye ranges round three-fourths of the horizon over a fertile expansebright with the cheerful waters of a rippling stream, a generous river, or a gleaming lake :- dotted with hamlets, each with its modest spire :and, if the farm lies in the vicinity railroad, a social neighbor, or a traveling friend. It consists in due proportion of pasture and tillage, meadow and woodland, field and garden. A substantial dwelling, with everything for convenience and nothing for ambition,-with the fitting appendages of stable, and barn, and cornbarn, and other farm buildings, not forgetting a spring-house with a living fountain of water, -occupies upon a gravelly knoll, a position well murmuring over a pebbly bed, here
